SUMMARY

I'm a previous occupational therapist with 6 years of experience in healthcare, currently transitioning into the dynamic field of web development after completing an intense bootcamp program.

Motivated by my problem-solving skills and creativity, I seek to leverage my unique background to excel in web development roles.

With a solid foundation in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Ruby on Rails, I aim to contribute my adaptability and communication skill to collaborative projects, fostering impactful change in innovative tech environments. Actively seeking opportunities in both backend and frontend development roles to further apply and expand my skills.
